Army Will Abandon
Its Point System
For Discharges
By Late Winter

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—(P)—Gen. George C. Marshall told congress today the army will abandon its point system for discharges by late winter and all men with two years' service will be released then.

At the same time, the army chief of staff advised a joint senate-house session that the present discharge score of 80 points—based on credit for service, combat and dependency—will be lowered to 70 by Oct. 1. Another cut to 60 points will be made Nov. 1.

General Douglas MacArthur, army chief in the Pacific, advised the War department yesterday that occupation force needs in Japan and Korea could be met with 200,000 soldiers plus one marine division, Marshall disclosed. MacArthur previously had made a similar announcement in Tokyo.

Marshall made it plain that more than 200,000 troops will be required in the Pacific as a whole, however. He said the 200,000 figure applied only to Japan and Korea and that troops also were required for Alaska, the Aleutians, Hawaii, Formosa, and possibly in China.

Congress Disturbed

Congress, he said, "apparently was disturbed" by an earlier estimate that the army would number 2,500,000 on July 1 next and that this would include 900,000 for occupation in the Pacific and 400,000 in Europe. The general said these figures were estimates that had to be supplied in connection with the annual budget and that later conditions would "give us a new set of figures." He did not amplify this.

Marshall said that Gen. MacArthur first had requested 17 divisions, redeployed from Europe, for duty in the Pacific but had trimmed this estimate repeatedly to finally bring it down to two redeployment divisions. These already have been sent.

As a result of MacArthur's latest estimate, Marshall said, the army yesterday cancelled the shipment of the 13th Airborne Division to the Pacific. This division was ready to move out.

At the war department, additional details on the point score were announced.

Reduce WACs

The discharge score for enlisted WACs will be reduced from 41 to 36 on Oct. 1 and further reduced to 34 on Nov. 1.

With the exception of medical officers, male officers of all grades, including warrant officers and flight officers, will be eligible for discharge effective Oct. 1 if they have 75 points. The score for WAC officers will be reduced from 44 to 39 on the same date.

Medical department officers, including nurses, will continue to be released under a recently established separate system for release of Medical Corps officers.

All of these new discharge scores will be based on V-J Day computations of Sept. 2.

The army announcement also said that the scores which determine an individual's eligibility for overseas shipment are under study in the department and that any changes "required to keep in step with new discharge scores" will be announced in the near future.

Dee Carpenter Reported Safe

Mrs. Irma Potter, of route 1, Beaman, has received official word that her son, T/Sgt. Dee Carpenter, taken prisoner on Corregidor in 1942, has been returned to military control, in a message from the acting attorney general, reading as follows:

"Mrs. Irma Potter, Route 1, Beaman, Mo.
"The secretary of war desires me to inform you that your son, T/Sgt. Dee Carpenter, was returned to military control 29 August, 45, and is being returned to the United States in the near future. He will be given an opportunity to communicate with you upon arrival.
"E. F. Witsell, acting adjutant general of the army."

T/Sgt. Carpenter, aged 36, enlisted in the army in Sedalia 19 years ago. Mrs. Potter received word, after the fall of the Philippines, that he was missing. A year later she received word he was a prisoner of war, and about a year ago she received word through the International Red Cross that he was interned at Camp Osaka, Japan.

SAAF Soldier Killed When Car Turns Over

Accident Occurs
Early Today
West of Sedalia

Staff Sergeant Albert E. Schob, Sedalia Army Air Field, was fatally injured in an automobile accident on Highway 50, between Knob Noster and LaMonte, at approximately 5 a. m. today. Medical aid was rushed to the scene from the Sedalia Army Air Field, but Sgt. Schob had passed away before help arrived.

At the time of the accident Sgt. Schob and three companions, Staff Sergeant Thomas P. Connolly, Staff Sergeant Garland Clemmens and Cpl. Louie E. Parnell, were returning to the base from Sedalia in a 1931 Chevrolet convertible coupe. Sgt. Schob was alone in the rumble seat. The driver of the car evidently dozed off temporarily and missed the turn on the S curve just east of Knob Noster, causing the car to leave the road.

Companions Not Hurt

The car rolled over, pinning Schob under the wreckage, and inflicting the fatal injuries. His three companions escaped injury.

Sgt. Schob, whose home is at 4381 Penrose avenue, St. Louis, was an airplane mechanic with the First Troop Carrier Command, stationed at SAAF since April, 1944. His next of kin have been notified.

Enjoyed Visit In Home Town

"To the Sedalia Democrat Co.
"Dear friends:—I have been in my old home town for eight days, and have had the time of my life, greeting old friends of other days. Everyone has been so glad to see me, and we have been together like we used to do years ago, with the same sweet fellowship of good friends. I have seen personally about one hundred of dear friends of other days, and it has done my heart good. I go back to my work preaching in Baptist revival meetings in South Missouri and in Kansas, with renewed vigor because of these contacts here in Sedalia.

Shirley Temple Married to AAF Sergeant Wednesday

By Bob Thomas

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 20.—(P)—Shirley Temple today began what she considers the greatest role of her life — that of Mrs. John Agar.

She married the army air forces sergeant last night in a wedding marked by one of the biggest mob scenes in Hollywood history. The former film moppet had wanted a quiet church ceremony. But her fans thought differently.

They started gathering at 3 o'clock in the afternoon in front of the Wilshire Methodist church. By wedding time, 8:30, a crowd estimated by police at 5,000 lined the streets. Traffic down Wilshire through Los Angeles, was hopelessly snarled.

Forty-five city, studio and military policemen attempted to hold the crowd back. But they were not enough. When the bride and bridegroom left the church, a shouting throng of adolescents, middle-aged women and men nearly swamped them. A police lieutenant finally ordered an aisle through the crowd and the couple surrounded by eight guards, made their way to a waiting car.

Hectic Scene
If the outside scene was hectic, the ceremony inside was just as Shirley wanted it. The 500 invited guests sat quietly in the church, surrounded by hundreds

Looted High Nazi's Palace

SALZBURG, Austria, Sept. 20.—(P)—Blonde Polish Countess Therese Platerzyberk, 23, will serve 52 days in jail on charges of looting former reichsmarschall Hermann Goering's summer palace of several hundred thousand dollars worth of furnishings and art works.

She was sentenced to two years imprisonment last night by a military government court which suspended the rest of the sentence.

Maj. Robert M. Woodward of Chicago, former Illinois state legislator, who read the verdict, said the court was influenced in her favor by the fact that the loot included Polish museum articles taken from the "despoiler of her native land."

Closing Ordnance
Plant at Parsons
WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—(P)—The Kansas Ordnance plant at Parsons which shipped enough ammunition to the world battle fronts to fill 24,361 freight cars, will cease operations about November 1, it was announced today by Lt. Gen. Levin H. Campbell, Jr., chief of ordnance and deputy director of industrial reconversion.

During the three years and four months that the plant was in operation it provided employment for a total of 28,000 persons, mostly drawn from southeast Kansas and northern Oklahoma.

More Orders By MacArthur

TOKYO, Sept. 20.—(P)—The Domei agency said today that the Japanese finance ministry, on orders from General MacArthur, had frozen assets and property of Axis nationals in Japan.

The agency said nationals of Germany, Italy, Bulgaria, Finland, Siam, Rumania and Hungary would be required to report their holdings in Japan to the finance ministry within a week. Penalty for non-compliance will be a maximum of three years in prison or fine of ten thousand yen (about $870 at the present exchange rate).

Domei also reported that Japanese police ordered civilians to surrender by Oct. 10, all firearms, gunpowder and swords.

B-29s Stopped At Chicago to Take on Fuel

Experiment Led To Belief Non-Stop
Trips Can be Made

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—(P)—Maj. Gen. Curtis E. Lemay, who directed B-29 superfortress attacks on Japan, said today that "the atomic bomb had nothing to do with the end of the war at all."

"The war would have been over in two weeks without the Russians coming in and without the atomic bomb," Lemay said at a news conference called to discuss the flight which he and two other generals made from Japan to Washington yesterday in three superfortresses.

By James J. Strebeg.

Associated Press Aviation Editor
WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—(P)—Beaten by a 50 to 1 shot, Lt. Gen. Barney M. Giles believes the Japan to America non-stop run soon will be flown in both directions—and often.

Giles led a flight of three stripped-down B-29s in an unsuccessful attempt to reach Washington from Sapporo, Japan, without a pause.

The big Superfortresses had to sit down at Chicago late yesterday to take on fuel after stubborn headwinds blew away their chances some 6,100 miles and 26 hours after their take-off.

"We hit weather you wouldn't hit once in 50 times," Giles said after the planes covered the remaining 600 miles to Washington in just over two hours.

He added that the great circle route over which he led the flight is the shortest one and that the United States will use it often.

Matter Of Caution

Giles disclosed that the fueling stop was more a matter of caution than necessity. One plane had 1,200 gallons left of the 10,000 with which it started; another had 1,000 and the third 700 gallons. The B29s use around 400 gallons an hour at fast cruising speed.

Uncertain weather made it inadvisable to try to squeeze home, Giles said, adding that the projected non-stop flight was a practical test, and not a stunt.

General of the Army H. H. Arnold, commander of the army air forces, said the object was to see what could be expected from the B-29. Reason: it had gone from the drawing board directly into production and combat, without all of the usual tests given a new plane.

Less Than Russian Hop

The flight to Chicago was about 200 miles short of a Russian hop from Moscow to California, and 1,000 miles under the world record set by two British planes flying from Egypt to Australia.

The plane commanded by Giles, deputy commander of United States Strategic Air Forces in the Pacific, reached Chicago 26 hours and 25 minutes after leaving Mizutani airport in Japan. It averaged about 231 miles an hour.

Brig. Gen. Emmett (Rosy) O'Donnell, commander of the first B-29 group to hit Tokyo, reached Chicago in 25 hours 43 minutes. He led the procession although he was the last to take off from Sapporo. Maj. Gen. E. Lemay trailed in at 27 hours.

Each plane carried 12 men.

Search For Apples

Not Fit For Eating
Police were notified Wednesday evening by the Missouri State Patrol to be on the lookout for a one and a half ton truck, with a cab and hood of the truck painted green. The police were told parties driving the truck had taken between 30 and 40 bushels of apples in Morgan county.

According to the report the apples were sprayed with arsenic of lead and not fit to eat.

New Groups of Workers are Leaving Jobs

Army of Idle
Is Hiked Today
To 200,000

(By The Associated Press)

Disputes along the nation's labor front, which for more than a week have kept the strike idle around the 200,000 mark spread today, taking new groups of workers away from their jobs.

New work stoppages during the last 24 hours hiked the army of idle to about 210,000 and threats of additional strikes in the oil industry indicated a new high for the summer would be on the national total before the end of the week.

There was comparative calm in the labor-troubled Detroit area where some 80,000 workers are idle by strikes and shutdowns but there apparently was no letup in the CIO Oil Workers' movement to strike in efforts to attain their demands for a 30 per cent wage increase.

Oil workers already have quit their jobs in refineries and plants in Indiana, Michigan, Ohio, West Virginia and in Texas where the issue threatened to sweep over the entire oil-rich gulf coastal region.

More than 10,000 oil workers were off their jobs in the Texas plants while in the Chicago area four plants, employing 3,000, were closed.

Oil Workers Strike

Other oil workers had joined the strike movement in plants in the Detroit area, and in Ohio, Michigan and West Virginia. Strike votes were scheduled in several Texas plants, as the idle in the Port Arthur area jumped to more than 13,000 as three refineries, three rubber plants and two affiliated industries closed or were closed because of labor disputes.

The situation in Detroit, where CIO Automobile Workers union officials are seeking an industry-wide 30 per cent wage boost, showed no major developments but General Motors Corporation indicated 25,000 more workers might be laid off before week's end because of a shortage of parts.

New work stoppages during the last 24 hours idled 2,600 at the Nash-Kelvinator plant in Kenosha, Wis., in a strike the company termed "wildcat," while 3,500 shipbuilders in the New York metropolitan area struck over what CIO Marine and Shipbuilding workers spokesmen said was a dispute over holiday pay and seniority.

Parachuted To Safety

BOISE, Idaho, Sept. 20.—(P)—A 29-year-old Poplar Bluff, Mo., navigator—2nd Lt. Raymond A. Begley, Jr., has been identified as one of three survivors of the crash early Tuesday of an army Liberator bomber in the rugged mountain country north of Death, Nev.

Seven members of the bomber's ten-man crew were killed when the plane crashed into the side of an 8,000-foot mountain peak. Begley and two other crew members parachuted to safety. The Missouri is now at a hospital at Elko, Nev.

Col. Merlin I. Carter, commanding officer at Gowen Field where the B-24 was based, announced yesterday that Lt. Begley and the other two survivors sustained only slight injuries and were hospitalized only for "routine check-ups."

Lieutenant Begley's wife, and his father, Raymond A. Begley, live at 425 Vine street, Poplar Bluff, Mo.

Key is Turned On Thirty-two War Criminals

Yanks Believe it
Is Most Interesting
Jail in the World

YOKOHAMA, Sept. 20.—(P)—

Japan's warlords Hideki Tojo will be moved into Yokohama Prefectural prison with other members of his Pearl Harbor cabinet as soon as he recovers from his self-inflicted bullet wound. Lt. Gen. Robert L. Eichelberger, commander of the U. S. Eighth Army, said today.

The Eighth Army, occupying central and northern Honshu, now has 32 suspected war criminals in cells in this jail on the outskirts of Yokohama.

Tojo is reported improving rapidly at the army hospital here, and all indications are that he should be able to move within a week.

Then, said Eichelberger, "I don't believe the supreme commander is going to object when I move him into the local calaboose to join the rest of his Pearl Harbor gang."

Asked about the difficulties in the roundup of war crimes suspects, Eichelbacher declared, "We did have a hard time at first but then General MacArthur put the problem up to the Japanese government. All we do now is turn the key on them. Right now they're all (32) in the local prefectural jail."

High Class Criminals

"My group consists of most of the Tojo Pearl Harbor cabinet, a German colonel of some repute, Jose Laurel, former puppet president of the Philippines, Lt. Gen. Masaharu Homma of the Bataan 'death march,' ex-Philippines Ambassador Jorge Vargas, and a choice group of sergeants, captains, and colonels who are alleged to have mistreated our lads in prison camps."

"I imagine this is the most interesting jail in the world today," Eichelberger said that all prisoners are given sufficient food and a cell with a cot to sleep on "simple comforts, but we've seen 'em mob outside begging to get in."

He said that Archbishop Francis J. Spellman visited the jail yesterday and termed it "one of the most interesting experiences in my life."

'Fur-Bearing Trout' To Governor Laney

LITTLE ROCK, Sept. 20.—(P)—Governor Laney was in a skeptical but hungry mood today.

He had just received word that Governor Vidian of Colorado was sending him a "fur-bearing trout" in return for the Arkansas executive's presentation to the mid-westerner of a 110-pound watermelon.

"I've just about heard everything now," Laney declared, adding that a fish dinner would be in order when the trout and the giant frog legs promised by Louisiana's Governor Davis arrive.

Warships Bringing Navy Men

Several Thousand
Head for Home;
Couldn't Ask for Easier Occupation

TOKYO, Sept. 20.—(P)—

Several thousand American navy men headed for home aboard 17 Third Fleet warships today, while General MacArthur's headquarters reported army occupation forces would increase to 400,000 before dropping to his predicted 200,000 "duration" total—and Lt. Gen. Robert L. Eichelberger said he couldn't have asked for an easier occupation.

Handling occupation problems through the Japanese government has made the Allied move into this conquered nation "surprisingly successful and extremely easy," said Eichelberger, commander of the Eighth army, which occupies central and northern Honshu.

If the Japanese government had been dissolved, many more Allied troops and much more time would have been required, Eichelberger told Associated Press correspondent Hamilton W. Faron.

Little Friction

"We've had a minimum of friction with the Japanese authorities and with the Japanese people," he added. "If when I left Okinawa I could have been permitted to ask for just what conditions would have pleased me most, I couldn't have asked for anything better than the working arrangements we now have, and the results thus far obtained."

The Eighth army commander also announced that Japan's wartime premier Hideki Tojo soon will be moved "into the local calaboose (at Yokohama) to join the rest of his Pearl Harbor gang."

The ex-premier is recovering from his self-inflicted bullet wound and should be ready to move in a week, Eichelberger reported. The Yokohama prefectural jail — with its small but clean cells and simple cots — already houses some 32 war-criminal suspects, and Eichelberger said he thought it was "the most interesting jail in the world today."

Just Turn Key

He said the Eighth army staff was having "a hard time at first," with the roundup, but that after MacArthur put the problem up to the Japanese government "all we do is turn the key on them."

"Speaking of the smoothness of the occupation, he pointed out that: 'We've naturally been hardened by years of combat, but we are not so rough that we want to mistreat civilians who obey our every demand with a bow.'

"We are on the alert, however, to see that surrender terms are carried out to the letter. Does anyone think that fighting along the New Guinea axis and on the islands of the Philippine archipelago has developed a bunch of sissies?"

The Japanese already have disarmed and demobilized three-fourths of their homeland army although there are only 150,000 Allied troops in Japan, thus far, to oversee the process, MacArthur's headquarters reported.

No Comment

State department expressions of surprise and concern at MacArthur's prediction of three days ago on the size of the occupation forces drew another terse "No comment" from MacArthur's staff today. His state officials pointed out, however, that his announcement of future reductions had clearly specified a probable force of 200,000 six months hence. It did not say that this would be the maximum landed in the meantime, they emphasized.

Troops will continue to pour into Japan through September, October, November and December until about 400,000 have arrived by the end of the year, they reported.

Compromise Tax-Cutting Plan Started

Would Scale Down Corporation and Individual Taxes

B. Francis M. Lemay
WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—(AP)—A compromise tax-cutting plan that would wipe out income levies for some 5,000,000 persons began to take form today.
It also would scale down tax bills for all individuals as well as corporations.
This development came amid mixed congressional reaction to a proposal by the committee on post-war tax policy for an ultimate slash of more than 50 per cent in present tax collections.
The policy committee, a private study group, called for immediate repeal of the three per cent "normal" tax on individual incomes and elimination of the wartime excess profit tax on corporations.
The compromise reported under discussion within the Congress' own tax staff would provide:

- Provisions
1. Retention of the "normal" tax but with a 1946 exemption of $500 for the taxpayer and each person dependent on him. The present $500 flat exemption gives the taxpayer no credit for dependents. The new plan would apply the same exemptions for the normal tax as is now used for the surtax and would relieve about 5,000,000 low-income families from further federal income taxes. It would have no effect on single persons without dependents. But for a married man with two children who now pays $45 on a net income of $2,000 the plan would reduce that bill to zero.
  2. An "across the board" reduction in all individual taxes, probably by 10 per cent. This would give each person a flat cut—in addition to the new system of exemptions for the normal tax. Congressional tax experts estimated the change in "normal" exemptions would reduce taxes by $800,000,000 and that a 10 per cent "across the board" slash would cut the burdens by another $1,200,000,000.
  3. Reduction, if not repeal, of the corporation excess profits taxes.
- For Solvent America
The tax policy committee is headed by Roswell Magill, former under-secretary of the treasury. It called its report "a tax program for a solvent America."
After a transition period placed from two to three years the committee proposed further relief to bring tax yields down from an estimated wartime peak of $47,000,000,000 to between $15,000,000,000 and $22,000,000,000.
The committee proposes also to relieve the present "double taxation" of corporation dividends, and suggested that estate and gift taxes as well as gasoline taxes be returned to the states.

Talk Treaty With Finland

LONDON, Sept. 20.—(AP)—The Big Five foreign ministers conference discussed the non-controversial issue of a treaty with Finland today before plunging into the complex problem of Balkan peace pacts.

John Foster Dulles, an adviser on the American delegation and specialist on foreign affairs in Gov. Thomas E. Dewey's presidential campaign last year, meanwhile was considering a request from Secretary of State Byrnes to make a tour of the continent for use of the state department in shaping policies.

A renewed United States protest against unilateral Soviet action in the Balkans may be presented when the foreign ministers take up the problem of peace treaties with the former Nazi satellite states.

Dulles said whether he would make the trip for Byrnes depended on how long the Big Five meeting lasted. He would visit Germany, Italy, Poland, Austria and France, but not Moscow or the Balkan satellites if he should decide to go, he said.

Britain and Russia, signatories of the armistice with Finland, carried the main burden in today's discussions on that country. Since questions relating to territory and reparations already were defined in the armistice, the drafting of a treaty is primarily a question of procedure.

Prisoner's Dream: His Own Home

What did American prisoners of war dream about? Home mostly—perhaps "dream homes" like those above, fashioned of cardboard and barley paste by Yanks in a German prison camp. Along with 800 other articles made in such camps, they will be displayed next month in a POW exhibit in New York's Museum of Science and Industry. Inspecting the models are T/Sgt. and Mrs. Gil H. Menendez of Jamaica, N. Y. Menendez, 31, was shot down over Germany Nov. 6, 1944, and was liberated from prison camp by the Russians, last May. The POW show is sponsored by the AAF in co-operation with the War Prisoners Aid of the YMCA and National War Fund.

Aid to Needy War Workers

By J. W. DAVIS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—(AP)—Administration leaders who lost two major battles on the senate jobless pay bill expressed confidence today they will win a third contest. It involves paying the way home for stranded war workers.

Senator McClellan (D-Ark.) set up the fight by proposing to strike from the measure a section granting travel allowances up to $200 to send these workers back home or to a new job.

McClellan told a reporter before the senate gathered for what was expected to be its last day of debate on the emergency measure: "Those workers who have already gone home would not share in these travel benefits at all. This is discrimination."

"Also, it would permit travel payments without any showing of need, irrespective of the high wages a worker may have been drawing. We are going too far, paying something out of the treasury whether a man needs it or not. It is a trend which alarms me."

Picket Home of Head of Firm

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 20.—(AP)—Something new in the way of picket lines here was seen Tuesday when thirteen employees of the Beeher Steel Products company picketed the home of William Steinbreder, president of the firm.

Clarence Bingham, president of the local Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers union, of which the pickets are members, explained the grievance with the company stems from a War Labor Board order awarding the employees a 10-per-cent-an-hour wage increase. He said Steinbreder refused to comply with the order and union members decided to use the picketing method to call public attention to the dispute before going on strike.

After parading with signs before the Steinbreder home for half an hour, the pickets moved to the home of Thomas P. Dale, vice president of the company.

Steinbreder said his company expects to pay the increase but not until "certain complications involved in the WLB order are ironed out."

Shirley Temple Married Wednesday

of pink roses. Only two-thirds of the seats were taken. A blue ribbon stretched down the center aisle.

At 8:45 Shirley took the arm of her father, George Temple, and walked calmly down the aisle. She was wearing a simple gown of white satin. On her head was a small crown of corded satin, and a long silk net veil draped over the full train.

Dr. Willies Martin conducted an Episcopal double ring ceremony. Shirley performed her role with the deftness of an academy award winner. Her "I will" could be heard in the rear of the massive church. There wasn't a missed cue or a muffled line.

At the conclusion of the ceremony, Sergeant Agar gave his bride a long, resounding kiss which brought a ripple of laughter from the audience. The kiss was longer than movie censors would allow.

Guests Were Friends

The guests included few film personalities. Shirley's one-time boss, Darryl Zanuck, and her present one, David Selznick, were present. But the majority were friends of both families, plus the rank and file of workers who have been associated with the actress in the studios.

Gov. Earl Warren and his family were among the guests.

The handsome 24-year-old groom and his 17-year-old bride received well-wishers at the home of her parents. The reception line lasted two hours. Guests wandered through a large tent in the yard of the Temple estate and viewed the mass of presents in Shirley's play house.

Valuable Gifts

One table glittered with more than 200 pieces of sterling silver tableware. Four cook books, six white blankets, an electric iron and towels of all kinds were among the gifts.

After the reception, the couple left on their honeymoon, which will be spent on a motor trip. He must report back to the Spokane army air base in 10 days and she will then return to live with her parents.

Shirley hopes to enter UCLA this fall and has been attending rush parties at campus sororities. However, her education plans may be postponed because of a picture commitment with Selznick.

At any rate, she hopes some day to settle down and raise a family.

Feller Beats Tigers, Borowy Trims Cards

Am. League Race
Narrowed to 1 Game
Margin; Cards Three Games Behind Cubs

By Jack Hand
Associated Press Sports Writer
Prospects of a fourth Detroit-Chicago world series hit a snag today with the Tigers faltering before Bobby Feller's 1-hit shut-out pitching.

The Cubs held up their end of the bargain as Fordham Hank Borowy broke the St. Louis Cardinals' "hex" with a 4-1 decision in ten innings at Sportsman's park. It was the ninth victory for the former Yankee whom Larry MacPhail sold to Chicago for a reported $70,000 "because he couldn't win after July 4th."

If Chicago does hit the pennant grade, much credit must go to Borowy who has lost only two since leaving New York in late July and holds two important decisions over the Red Birds. Counting his American league triumphs, Hank now has a total of 19 for the year.

Just when it appeared certain that Billy Southworth's champs were going to cram another shut-out down the throats of the Cubs, needing only one more out in the ninth for a 1-0 verdict, Andy Pafko ruined George Dockins' day with a tying single. The leaders then went on to score three times in the tenth on only one base hit for their 5th success in 19 meetings with the Birds.

It's now three games from Chicago on top to St. Louis in second place with only nine to go, an overwhelming advantage as the two clubs go into the final game of their all-night series at Sportsman's park.

Things were not so happy in the camp of the Detroit club which saw its advantage over idle Washington shrink to a single game after the 2-0 shutout by Feller's Cleveland Tribe. Jimmy Outlaw's Texas league single in the fifth inning saved the Tigers from the humiliation of having a no-hitter thrown against them in the thick of the race.

One long clout by Jeff Heath, his 15th homer of the year with one man on, was the difference between Feller's near-perfect job and a combination three-hitter offered up by Les Mueller, Geo. Caster and Tommy Bridges.

Feller, who failed in his lone start against second-place Washington now has faced the Bengals three times, holding two decisions over them. It is possible he may work one of the three remaining topits between the two clubs.

While Washington tangles with the Yankees today in the opener of a two-game series preparatory to a final three-game set in Philadelphia, Detroit must meet Cleveland again and then face the St. Louis Browns over the weekend.

If the Senators can sweep all five remaining tilts, the Tigers must take five of seven to tie or six to win. What looked like a sure thing for Steve O'Neill's gang after they had taken three of the first four in Washington, now has become a nerve-wracking scramble that probably will not be settled until late next week.

Most important of the lesser major league games played yesterday were the two contests in the Yankee stadium where St. Louis sunk the Yanks twice, 6-5 and 4-3, both times in 10 innings. The results left New York three full games out of third place,

Sports Roundup

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—(P)—After making the rounds of football camps in the Rocky Mountain area, sports writer John Mooney reports: "Football this year hardly will be pre-war, but watch out for basketball. We'll be plenty rough again. Utah, Brigham Young U. and Wyoming really are loaded for basketball." ... That seems like looking pretty far ahead, but at the same time word trickles in that Oklahoma U. has acquired nine players from the recent state high school all-star cage tourney, topped by Dale Bittle and Doug Lynn, a pair of six-foot, eight-inchers. ... At that, the Sooners will be topped by the Oklahoma Aggies, who have James Moore (6-10½), Joe Halbert (6-7) and Lou Steinmeir (6-6) to go along with seven-foot Bob Kurland.

The Write Guys

The newspaper business supplied presidents for three minor baseball leagues this year. ... Sports Editor Bob Stedler of Buffalo, N. Y., heads the Pony loop; Publisher Carl A. Jones, Jr., of Johnson City, Tenn., presides over the Appalachian league and Sports writer Frank Colley of Columbus is chief executive of the Ohio State circuit. ... Other scribes still make out pretty well second guessing the presidents.

Decide for Yourself

(A quick look at the prospective world series second basemen) Don Johnson, Cubs — Don gives credit to his dad, Ernie Johnson, former White Sox and Yanks infielder, to Pirate Scout Sloppy Thurston and to Joe Gordon of the Yanks for making him a major leaguer. The war might also get an assist. Johnson made it last season after ten years in the minors, but he's done okay so far. ...

Emil Verban, Cardinals — Another 1944 rookie who made good. He was the National league's best fielding second sacker in 1944 and has upped his batting average from .257 to this year's .275. ... Eddie Mayo, Tigers — Supposed to be the one who holds the Detroit infield together but if he's hurt any more he may have trouble holding himself together. A near 300 hitter, too. ... George Myatt, Senators — Lists his hobbies as "hunting and woodwork." There's no sign of the latter in his .280 batting average.

Merry-Go-Round

by Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—Tip-off of the navy's original discharge intention was dropped accidentally by retiring chief of the personnel Adm. Randall Jacobs.

A smart young reporter for the Washington Star, Miriam Ottenberg, asked navy press relations for an interview with Jacobs. She was told she could have one if he had no objections. Navy press relations promptly phoned Jacobs' office that the interview was not to be given, but somehow this message went haywire.

Miss Ottenberg got the interview. It was a pip. The admiral really expanded. Among other things, he dropped this nugget of truth regarding the navy's discharge system:

"We want the young men in the navy. That's why age was included. The younger ones are the ones the navy of the future has to be built around."

This is the tipoff to the fact that a young man can have been in the navy four long years—since before Pearl Harbor—and if he isn't married, he still may not be able to get out.

Admiral King Forgot

Since then, Admiral Jacobs has been relieved as chief of personnel, not because of this, but because he had finished his tour of duty. Commander of the fleet Adm. Ernest King balked like a steer at having him go, however, and submitted a three-page memo to Secretary Forrestal giving reasons why Adm. Lou Denfeld, assistant to Jacobs, was not the man to take his place. Forrestal called Denfeld in, showed him the memo.

"What have you got to say about that?" Forrestal asked with a grin.

"Nothing," replied Admiral Denfeld.

Whereupon Forrestal immediately appointed Denfeld chief of the bureau of personnel. This, incidentally, is not the first time Forrestal has overridden King recently. Admiral Denfeld, however, will have a hard time changing the navy's discharge system materially as long as Admiral King

HALE MOVES X-999

IV

THE STORY: In Dr. Hale's dictation, Carolyn learns something of the power of the new discovery—X-999. It is a power that can give life power, that is, power that can give life power, that is, power that can give life power.

LEANA SORMI's indignation was almost frightening to Carolyn for a moment. The older girl's lips were taut, pale; and she talked in a peculiar clipped manner revealing a hint of foreign accent which didn't show ordinarily. Then fear in Carolyn was suddenly replaced by anger.

"Miss Sormi," she said levelly, "if any reprimanding is to be done, Dr. Hale is the one to do it. He hired me!"

Robert Hale had been acutely distressed by the whole scene. He felt himself responsible, and yet—Carolyn quickly caught herself up. "Oh, I beg your pardon! Both of you. Let's not be touchy. It's quite late and of course we are all on edge tonight."

That was reasonable, Leana left them without another word, and with his manner Bob Hale thanked Carolyn. He bade her go home and ordered a taxi for her himself, canceling any plan to work all night.

"Rest, but come back early," he said. "There is so much to do tomorrow. So much every day now! Of course Leana is upset. So am I. Miss Tyler, you—I don't know what I should have done without you today, and tonight!" He pressed her hand with fervor, and gazed longingly after her when the cab drove away. Carolyn told herself again that she had never encountered so extraordinary a young man.

and other Annapolis policies prevail.

Inside fact is that the Japanese surrender caught Admiral King with four discharge plans in his desk. He had done nothing about any of them. One plan would not have discharged any man from the navy until six months after V-J day. It was rejected by Secretary Forrestal as completely inadequate.

In King's much-ballyhooed second report, "U. S. navy at war," he went on record very clearly regarding discharges.

"For more than a year," he said on page 44, "we have worked on demobilization methods and have completed tentative plans. We are considering priority for severance and intend when the times comes to give due consideration to length of service, service outside the continental limits, combat service and parenthood."

That report was dated March 27, 1945, but apparently King forgot all about it. For demobilization plans were still a jumble of indecision on V-J day. However, the men who fought in the Pacific have not forgotten it, and many of them are blazing mad that his promises, especially regarding combat service and parenthood, have not been kept.

Big Peacetime Navy

While the navy's original discharge system has now been modified to give one-fourth of a point per month for sea duty, thousands of men still consider it inadequate, still feel it is designed to force men to remain in a big Pacific navy.

They also point out that the revised plan still has plenty of fakers.

For instance, a commander can keep any man for 120 days if he says he needs him, so that six months can easily pass by the time he gets through the separation center. Also combat men generally are aged 17 to 28. And they get no credit for the grueling punishment they took off Iwo Jima or Okinawa. These are the young men Admiral Jacobs accidentally admitted the admirals wanted kept in the navy—apparently regardless of length of combat duty. His excuse for not giving combat credit was that the records were lost.

How the system works was illustrated the other day on a certain battleship, now on the west coast. The navy recently issued an "Allpac" (all Pacific) directive authorizing all ships to reduce their complement by 10 per cent. This was to give shore duty to deserving personnel who had served a long tour of duty on board and were close to a discharge.

But the order did not have that effect. The majority of those transferred were not men who laboratory arranging a lead case," he explained. "It is under way now, in fact. We might slip out for a bite together again, at 6:30 or so."

BUT there was no dancing at this second dinner hour together as there had been last night. Indeed, this one was a bit formal; Carolyn saw that Robert Hale was physically weary now and this disturbed her.

"You must go home as soon as you can and sleep," she ordered, kindly. All at once she felt embarrassed. Bussing her own boss!

The man with the truck came at 11:30. He was an efficient-looking but somewhat arrogant individual. Dr. Hale, Leana Sormi and Carolyn all went to the laboratory with him. Immediately both the driver and Carolyn were astounded.

From the great laboratory, surrounded by armed guards—themselves enough to arouse curiosity—Robert Hale carried a parcel no bigger than half a shoe box. But he strained with the weight of it.

"Partly wrappings, partly the lead case," he explained to Carolyn. "The actual content is only a thimble portion, of course. The lead is essential to guard against powerful radiations. It would take sudden heat or a shock like a dynamite cap to explode it, but—"

They had come then within earshot of the driver, who spoke then.

"What's in it?" he asked, jokingly. "Jewels, huh?"

"No," Dr. Hale said, calmly. "Nothing like that. But it demands the utmost care."

"Yeah? Think of that! I'll help you with the rest of 'em."

"This is all. Only the one."

"Yeah?" The truck driver was incredulous. He had a two-ton truck, enclosed. For just one tiny parcel, hardly six inches square, to sit in that big van looked silly to him. And why did some screw professor want it sent out at night to an abandoned farm? And why must it rest, like eggs, on thick cotton padding?

Johnston Is Hays' Successor

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—(AP)—Eric A. Johnston, 48-year-old head of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, Wednesday was elected President of the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America, Inc., succeeding Will Hays.

Hays, 65, resigned after serving nearly 24 years in the post during which time he became known as the "movie czar." He will continue to advise the film organization.

While there was no official statement as to salaries involved, it was reported Johnston's five-year contract called for $150,000 yearly and Hays would receive $100,000 annually as a consultant.

Johnston will assume his new post immediately and also will remain as Chamber of Commerce president until his term expires.

He said motion pictures must continue to be America's "greatest salesman, her most natural and convincing ambassador of good will," and should be "one of the most potent forces for promoting friendship and understanding among nations."

For the first time since Saturday morning trains were operated on the main line of the Missouri Pacific between Sedalia and St. Louis, a temporary bridge being opened across the Lamine river near Otterville following the regular bridge being washed out.

"Tommie" McCarthy, "Jack" Strong and "Brooklyn Tommy" Sullivan, the latter challenger of "Battling" Nelson, arrived from St. Louis and were guests of the Sedalia Athletic club.

The Sedalia Military band will assist in furnishing the music for the Priests of Pallas parade in Kansas City on October 3.

Miss Vic Jones, the vocalist, arrived in New York Monday from London, England, and will not return to Sedalia for the next few weeks.

F. M. Gearhart's wood delivery team ran away on Ohio avenue, traveling at breakneck speed from Third to Sixth, giving the more timid a fright. The only damage resulting was a collision with the W. F. Boland plumbing wagon in front of his store necessitating both vehicles being sent to the repair shop.

There are numerous causes of the overheating of the engine, among which are grease on the cylinder block, carbon in the cylinders and dirt in the cooling system.

Future Looks Bright for Kitcheneers

Designed to take the back-aches out of laundering, this compact washing machine and dryer fits snugly into small space and adds beauty to the kitchen.

By S. BURTON HEATH
NEA Staff Writer

NEW YORK—There goes the war, and here comes the housewife's golden age. From now on, if she can wangle the price out of Hubby's war savings, Milady can keep house almost without turning a hand or lifting a finger.

That is a slight exaggeration. There still are a few things about the house that machines can not do. In fact, the machines are not yet on the store shelves. But the really difficult chores of housework have been conquered by modern science. Machines to do them are proven facts, already on the production lines of manufacturers. It may take some time before stockpiles are built up enough so that one can just step into a store and buy, but a few items in most of the lines may well begin showing up in a matter of weeks now.

When the manufacturers get into swing, and get their distributors stocked, it is going to be almost fun for the kitcheneer to keep house.

Leisure To Burn

The electric stove will turn itself on at a pre-determined hour in the morning and fry the bacon she left last night in the pan. The perculator will go to work by itself, make the coffee, and then shut off just enough to keep that odorous brew at a drinkable 190 degrees. Bread will feed down through the electric toaster all by itself, though thus far, you still have to butter it yourself and lift it to your own mouth.

After breakfast, just scrape leavings into the garbage disposal unit, which will chew them up and wash them into the sewer. Then stack the dishes in the sink. There they'll wash and dry themselves. Perhaps, in time, if you start with them young, you can train your china and glass ware to roll to the dish closet and distribute themselves in orderly fashion on the shelves.

About that butter for your toast, and even more important for your bread. Up to now, you've had the option of leaving it out at room temperature, and seeing it flow all over things, or putting it in the refrigerator and finding it so hard it won't spread. That's all ancient history in this post-war era we're about to enter. There'll be a little special cubicle in the refrigerator, sized for a pound of butter, at the exact temperature to keep the butter firm yet spreadable.

Breakfast is over: the dishes have washed themselves. But it's Monday morning—and wash day—and no weather report is needed to tell you that it is going to be hot as the Hammers of Nippon.

So what? You just toss a little soap powder into the automatic washer, which itself draws the exact amount of water it needs. You toss in some clothes and open the latest best-seller at page 648, where you left it at bedtime. In perhaps 20 minutes the clothes are washed, rinsed and three-quarters dried.

Here comes a brief interruption. (Unfortunately science has not yet quite achieved its goal of abolishing work completely.) You must lay aside the book long enough to move the clean, almost-dry clothes about a yard into the electric drier that stands beside the washer and looks, on the outside exactly like it.

If you've been lazy or busy and let washing stack up on you, it may be necessary to let the machine change the water and toss in another batch of laundry. Otherwise just go back to the book while the drier does its work.

There's still ironing to be done. There isn't yet any machine that will iron Dad's shirts automatically. You run through the flat work on a cool electric ironer that probably is built into the breakfast or utility table. For shirts, lingerie and such items, you use a featherweight iron that sprays onto the articles just enough steam to save your having to sprinkle them, and prevents them from getting shiny from ironing.

Milady—having done dishes, washed, ironed and eaten lunch by noon—can rest up from her arduous labors under a sun lamp that will preserve that lovely golden tan picked up at the beach.

More To Come

She will go to bed under an electrically-heated blanket thermostatically controlled to maintain any desired temperature whatever happens to the thermometer, and made from wires that won't short-circuit even if a few should happen to break. That probably will be all she'll need for warmth, no matter how many degrees below zero the air entering through a wide-open window may achieve.

These are not by any means

Many Guests at Club Meeting

Mrs. Arthur Baxter assisted Mrs. Olen Monsees in entertaining the Friendly Homemakers Home Economics Extension club in the Monsees home September 14.

Mrs. Hubert Finley presided over the business meeting. Roll call was answered by the women telling how much they had canned. Mrs. Robert Griffin led the devotional. Mrs. Harry Pace read the monthly club letter.

Plans were made for the club to correspond with a club in some foreign country.

Mrs. Finley presented Mrs. Patsy Kahrs who gave an interesting talk on Mexico.

Refreshments in the form of a school lunch, in a bag, were served to the fourteen members and following guests, Mrs. Patsy Kahrs, Mrs. T. E. Kruse, Mrs. William Fickens, Mrs. Grace Meyers, Mrs. B. B. Irig, Mrs. Irvin Cramer, Mrs. Walter Gilbert and Mrs. William Pace.

all of the innovations that the electrical manufacturers of the nation are prepared to put onto the market in very short order. They're just a few of the more spectacular that actually are on the production line, at prices that already make them possible for tens of thousands. As mass production gets into swing it can be expected that prices will go down so that such dream appliances will become available to the millions.

A defective windshield wiper, causing streaky, imperfect wiping, may result in an accident by obscuring or confusing a danger point.

Cannibalism Still Extant

Cannibalism, once common in several parts of the world, is now practiced in only a few sections. Cannibals are known to live in some parts of New Guinea, Africa, and the interior of Australia.

Daily Alteration

Almanacs and calendars usually show four "changes" of the moon per month. Actually, every day is a "change" of the moon, since on no day does it appear as it did the day before.

The mangosteen, famous fruit of Java, is expected to be introduced to tropical gardens in America. It already has been imported and planted in Florida. It is about the size of a mandarin orange, with a thick, juicy flesh, taste of which resembles the peach and pineapple.

Papal Table in Museum

A table made of semi-precious stones by seventeenth century craftsmen for Pope Paul V is now on display in the Battle Creek, Mich., Kingman Memorial Museum. Workers intricately fitted 239 pieces of highly-polished jasper, alabaster, agate and other stones together to make the table top.

The Story of the Atom

(1) When the smoke, dust, and debris had cleared away after the explosion of the atomic bomb in the New Mexico desert, the scientists rolled over on the ground where they lay and exchanged handshakes. The greatest and most spectacular experiment in the history of science had been a success. They cautiously ventured to where the steel tower with the bomb had stood. It had been completely vaporized. The explosion left a crater nearly two city blocks across.

(2) The scientists gazed with amazement into the great pit. Then when the crater appeared safe enough, the scientists conducted an expedition into it. Making their way cautiously, they used specially adapted Army tanks to see what the outburst of atomic power had done to the earth.

(3) The tremendous heat had melted rocks. Even though "the height of the explosion was necessarily low," they found that only "a very small fraction of the radioactivity" released by the explosion was deposited immediately below the bomb, the official report says. From the effect of the bomb on the rocks beneath it, the scientists estimated the enormous power which they had released.

(4) How in July, 1945, had scientists found enough material to create such an explosion? In 1940 they did not have enough of the chief ingredient of the bomb—U-235—to see under an ordinary microscope and had only a few grams of pure uranium metal out of which to make U-235. The answer is that the bomb was produced by one of the most remarkable examples of scientific cooperation in history. In 1942, the scientists found a cheap process for making uranium on a large scale. From uranium they produced an entirely new chemical element—plutonium. It was comparatively easy to turn plutonium into U-235.

Differences Of Opinion On Occupation

Japanese People
Must be Rid of Medieval Ideas

By Dewitt Mackenzie
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst
General MacArthur seems to have stirred up a sizeable cloud of conflicting emotions by his announcement that Uncle Sam's occupation forces in Japan may be cut to some 200,000 within six months—a divergence of opinion which isn't strange in view of the numerous issues involved.

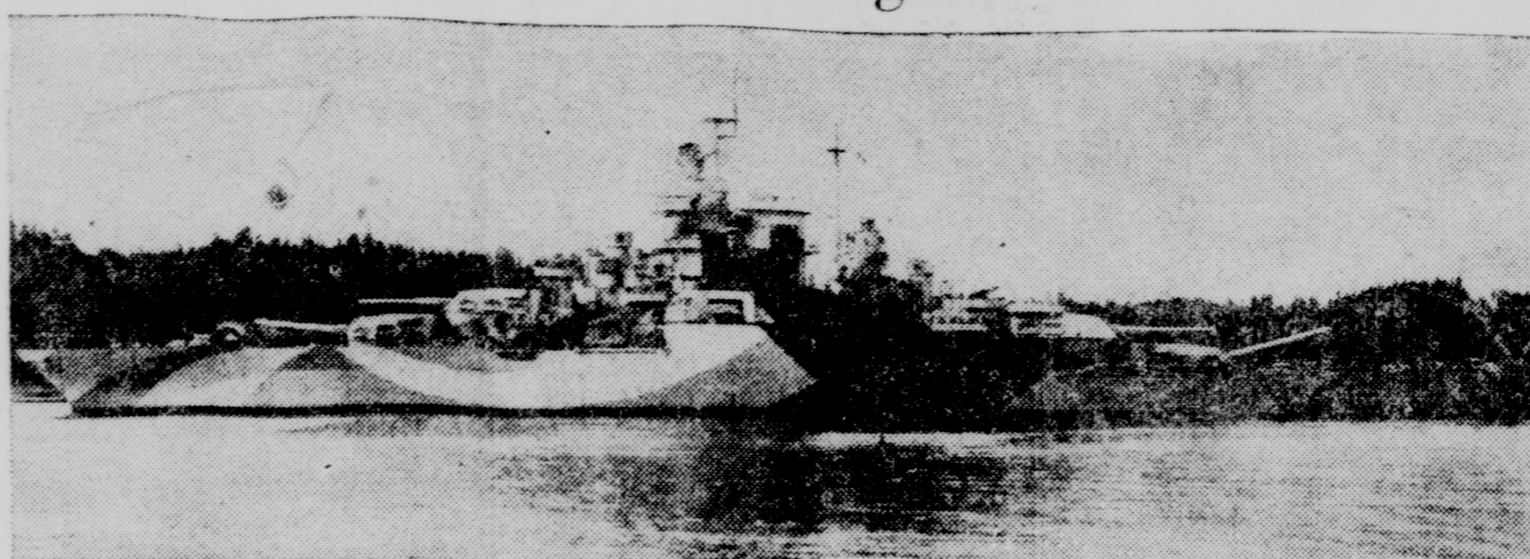

For the soldiers who want to get back home, and for their families, such a cut means one thing. It means quite another to the exponents of using the mailed fist on the Japs. To a further group

Ionia Seaman Aboard West Virginia

ABOARD THE USS WEST VIRGINIA — Oliver C. Renfrow, seaman, first class, USNR, whose wife lives at Ionia, Mo., served aboard the famous old battleship, the USS West Virginia (above) which went safely through many months of campaigning in the Pacific, then suffered her first combat casualties on the day of the Okinawa invasion when she was struck by a Japanese suicide plane.
Four crewmen were killed and 22 others were wounded by the plane crash.
The plane was in a formation of four aircraft that flew over the Okinawa transport anchorage at dusk, 12 hours after the first U. S. troops had gone ashore. One plane was shot down by the West Virginia's gunners, but another penetrated the anti-aircraft fire, reached a position above the big ship and came down in an almost vertical dive. A bomb the plane was carrying pierced two decks but failed to explode.

it means something else, and so it goes. But it strikes me that whatever may be the premise from which you argue you always arrive at the same point, which is this:

We must maintain troops in Japan as long as it is necessary to achieve the far-reaching objectives of the declaration of Potsdam by the Big Three—whether it be one year or twenty. We must keep as many soldiers there as are required to enforce this program—whether it be 200,000 or 2,000,000.

Must Change Character
The Potsdam edict calls not only for the physical disarmament but for the moral rearmament of Nippon. The very character of the people must be changed to rid them of their medieval ideas, fit them to govern themselves, and so prepare them for a place among the United Nations.

Now that's a job which can't be accomplished quickly, for it must be done by a process of education. General Wainwright, hero of Corregidor, who is fresh from the barbarism of a Jap prison camp, declares that we shall have to occupy Japan for twenty years. Well, it could be, although with luck we might be able to cut that down.

Of one thing we may be sure, and this is that we aren't going to be able to convert to western ways many of the militaristic minded people who have passed their youth. It's an ancient wheeze but true—that you can't teach an old dog new tricks. You have to catch 'em young—and you have to catch human beings young if you are bent on changing their natures. Of course there are some Japanese who are against aggression and who believe in the golden rule, but you probably could get most of them into your back yard at one time if you wanted to make a speech to them.

Educational Task Ahead
This means that the educational task lies with the young folk, and it must begin with youngsters as soon as they have reached the age of understanding. That's the way both Hitler and Mussolini prepared their countries for aggression. The German anti-Christ went much further and reared a generation of barbarians who perpetrated some of the worst atrocities known to history.

Mussolini had a score of years or so in which to achieve his evil mission, but he concentrated on the young folk, both boys and girls. As a result when the time came for him to stab France in the back he had a great force of fanatical Fascists behind him.

Hitler worked much faster, but more intensively. Only about half a dozen years elapsed from the time he assumed power in 1933 until he struck the first blow of the second World War. However, Nazism had got a grip on many Germans before 1933, and he also had the advantage of working in a militaristic country.

Youth Will Respond
In that brief time Hitler turned the young boys of his country into barbarians. He taught the young girls that it was their duty to have babies, and never mind marriage. He even provided fine maternity homes for these misguided children.

The lesson is conclusive. It is the young whose natures can be changed easily. And they will respond to good teachings quite as readily as to the wickedness of Hitler and Mussolini. Concentration over a period of say ten years might turn the trick in Japan.
